STREET STORIES

The chamber of commerce has made a contract for a page in the Oklahoma-Panama Pacific Exposition book to be distributed at the exposition.

Miss Pearl Moore, Beatrice Everett, Velma Barrett, and Louise Mae Bagby left for Crusher yesterday afternoon to spend a few days camping and fishing.

The advertising committee appointed by president Mullen of the chamber of commerce that will begin a campaign of advertising for the city and county will meet at the rooms of the chamber of commerce Monday night, to outline their plan of action.

V. Roy Shores received a telegram announcing the death of his father at Buckingham, N. C., yesterday, in the 86th year of his age. The cause of death was old age. He is survived by his wife and several children and this is the first death that has ever occurred in the family.

The mains are being flushed again today in order that the city water supply may be eliminated of its unpleasant taste and smell. So far all the efforts of the city commissioners have done but little good, and the water still carries that very unpleasant taste and smell.

Barton Moore, who left here several days ago in a buggy driving the family horse has arrived at Benjamin, Tex., and has so notified his mother here. Barton will spend the rest of the summer on the ranch and will return here for school on the 13th of September. He is 13 years of age, and made the drive alone. He reported a pleasant trip, free from any accidents.

"If the board of trustees of the Confederate Home make a change in their superintendents every time a complaint is lodged by some of the inmates, they will be changing heads of the institution every time they are in regular session and in all probability would have to call extra sessions to comply with the wishes of some of the malcontents," remarked a prominent citizen on the streets of the city this morning when the question of appointing a successor to the present incumbent was being discussed. This man was not in favor of making unnecessary changes in the management of the home to please a few people.

whom Secretary Garrison depends to report whether he can handle the situation with the force available. Funston has ready on the border and at Texas City about 17,000 troops, infantry, cavalry and artillery. Secretary Garrison telegraphed the general today that the 12,000 mobile troops remaining at other posts in continental United States would be sent to the border if he asked for them.

General Funston reported that the best information he could gather indicated that the raids in Cameron, Hidalgo and Starr counties were directed by Texans having headquarters at Brownsville, who, having a political feud, sent bandit gangs to rob and attack each other. Secretary Garrison expressed doubt that Mexicans from over the border were responsible for all the disturbances and emphasized that the troubles had no connection with internal affairs in Mexico.

"Conditions on the border," said Mr. Garrison, "have no political significance. Lawless people are using this time of excitement to plunder and steal, and we are not sure that all the lawbreakers are Mexicans. Some of them we know are not."

Further strengthening of the border forces will take virtually all available regular troops in the country. Officials today were considering whether it might not become necessary to use the National Guard should the situation take on more serious proportions.

It was pointed out that some of the disturbances take place many miles from the border and well into Texas. Such a situation, officials say, should be met by the police powers of the state. In the absence of any call the governor of Texas saying he is unable to control the situation and asking for aid, there is some doubt as to how far federal troops should be used.

German Count Dies at Denver.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 11.—Richard von Millar, who jumped from the window of a Union Pacific train near here last Wednesday, died in the county hospital today without having regained consciousness. When he made his leap to escape, he was being brought to Denver from Salt Lake City, where he had been arrested on a charge of beating a bill at a fashionable Denver hotel. During his stay in Denver, Millar moved in exclusive social circles and styled himself a German count.

Italian Railroad Men Show Patriotism in Helping Move Troops.

Rome, via Paris, Aug. 11.—The example of the railroad employees of Milan, who refused 3,000,000 lire ($600,000) offered by the government for extra work done by them in connection with the mobilization of the army has been followed by the railroad men of Rome, who have issued a statement declaring:

"We would feel ourselves humiliated if we were not willing to give our toll while others give their lives to the country."

TENDER-HEARTED CITIZENS LISTENED TO A TALE OF WOE AND CONTRIBUTED LIKE LISTENERS AT A BILLY SUNDAY REVIVAL.

Whenever a person blows into the city, throws a few sob into his voice and turns on the tear glands to their capacity, he, she, or they, can always get a sympathetic hearing and incidentally gather the necessary coin to take them to some destination that requires the expenditure of a few dollars in railroad transportation.

Such an incident happened here Tuesday, and while everything may be on the level, and the chances are that one benevolent pastor of this city has been separated from four and one-half perfectly good dollars that he will never see again.

It happened in this wise. Tuesday afternoon a party giving his name as Sanders, arrived in the city over the Santa Fe from the harvest fields of Kansas, together with his wife and children. He stated that owing to illness all his money was gone when he arrived, and as he was on his way to a brother east of here on the Frisco, he was at a loss what to do, until the idea of approaching a minister of the gospel suggested itself to him, and he immediately put said idea into execution. Just how he happened to single out Rev. Dr. Butler of this city will always remain a mystery, perhaps he is the first one he saw. At any rate he applied to him about 6:30 Tuesday afternoon and recited his pitiful plight stating that the wife and children had not eaten since morning, and that four and one-half dollars would provide them with the necessary food and purchase transportation to their destination.

His earnest appeal was not long in touching the tender hearts of the good man and his wife, and the forty-five was forthcoming. The visitor was profuse in his thanks and promised speedy restitution, and departed with the blessing of the pastor upon himself and family.

The ease with which this alleged Sanders negotiated the four-fifty inspired him to further effort, and as the chamber of commerce was in session, he concluded that it might be a rich field for harvest. He espied Col. Suggs who was present, and singled him out as his introducer. The Colonel is so well known over the state that he, no doubt, was aware of whom he was approaching and was not long in inducing Mr. Suggs to appeal to the generosity of the people of Ardmore in behalf of this stranded family.

Hardly had the colonel finished, when Billy DeWitt started the hat with a round dollar as his contribution. He was followed by everyone present with what loose change they chanced to be possessed of, with the result that he gathered something like six or seven dollars in a few minutes.

A short mention of the fact that a man in distress had been assisted by the chamber of commerce, appeared in yesterday's issue of the Ardmoreite, and when Dr. Butler read it, his suspicions became aroused. This morning he came to the office and related his story, stating at the time that all might be well, but the action of Sanders in obtaining the money from him and then relating to Col. Suggs that he was absolutely without funds, led them to believe that there was something rather irregular in the operations of friend Sanders.

Dr. Butler stated that from now on all his giving would be through the Benevolent Society, while no expression has been received from those of the chamber of commerce who have been "digging" for years and will perhaps continue to do so in the future, in the meantime Sanders has gone, and he may make good.
